EXPRESSION OF INTEREST (EOI)
Design and construction of a new research facility

The World Vegetable Center, an international nonprofit institute for vegetable research and development, seeks Expressions of Interest from qualified Architectural and Engineering (A&E) firms for the design and construction of a new research laboratory and its integration into the institution's existing 120-hectare campus, located in Shanhua, Tainan City, Taiwan. The aim is to create a vibrant campus with fit-for-purpose facilities, new research platforms, and enhanced existing research structures. Firms should provide a comprehensive company profile outlining qualifications and capabilities; examples of recently completed major projects, particularly those pertaining to scientific research infrastructure; the names of at least 3 referees (preferably clients for whom significant science structures have been built); and any other information that demonstrates the ability of the firm to undertake the scope of work.

EOI details are available at <https://avrdc.org/download/rim/EOI-full.pdf>

Deadline for submissions: 09:00 am on 20 July 2018.
