

Processing and Shipping Fees for Seed Distributed by AVRDC Headquarters and Regional Centers to National Agricultural Research and Extension Systems and Universities in Developing Countries

Note: AVRDC – The World Vegetable Center recognizes two categories of seed maintained at the Center and available for distribution: Germplasm accessions are lines in the public domain held in trust by the Center’s Genebank; and Breeding lines developed by AVRDC are the result of breeding and selection programs undertaken by the Center.

Fees

A lump sum processing and shipping fee of US$30 per seed shipment of up to 15 genebank accessions and/or breeding lines per Department per Institution per year will be charged (see table below). Additional accessions from the AVRDC genebank will be charged US$6, and additional breeding lines developed by AVRDC will be charged US$20 each.

	NARES/Universities in developing countries
	Genebank accession	Breeding line
Processing & shipping fee (≤15 accessions/lines)	US$30
Fee for each additional accession/line beyond 15	US$6	US$20

The indicated fees cover the cost of assembling the seed, packetizing, obtaining phytosanitary certification, postage via regular registered mail, and confirming MTA/seed delivery. In addition, they help defray costs of regeneration/multiplication, viability testing, characterization, and storage.
